

I was once playing
cricket for my club.
While our parents sat
in the pub.

We were playing well,
but a mighty task befell
and 6 off 1 was needed.
We didn't think we'll win for we cheated
by switching my bat back
So I could smack.

The bowler bowled with pace.
Something I couldn't face.
Yet I hit the ball
and saw it fall
over the boundary line.
So we won the game
And got all the fame.
